

I KNOW WHERE I'M GOING

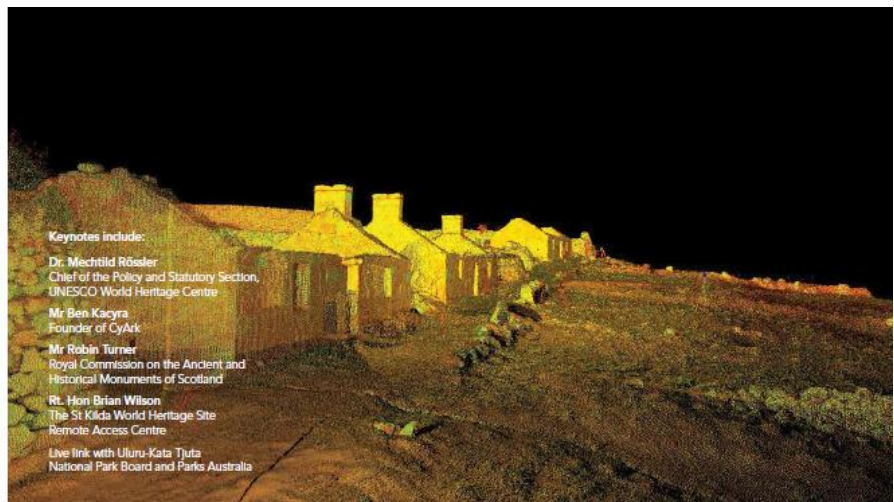

A conference on remote access to world heritage sites - from St Kilda to Uluru

I KNOW WHERE I'M GOING

23rd & 24th November 2011
Informatics Forum, The University of Edinburgh,
United Kingdom

At a time of economic crisis and environmental threat, countries everywhere are seeking to address the dual challenges of maximising the economic value of their natural and cultural heritage while protecting and preserving that heritage.

This international conference will focus on the potential created by new technologies for creating high-quality, remote-access visitor experiences for World Heritage Sites and other sites of cultural, historical and natural significance where physical access must be restricted, custodians facing the challenge of creating remote access to sensitive, hard-to-access or other trans-national sites.

Keynotes include:

Dr. Mechthild Rössler
Chief of the Policy and Statutory Section,
UNESCO World Heritage Centre

Mr. Ben Kacyra
Founder of CyArk

Mr Robin Turner
Royal Commission on the Ancient and Historical Monuments of Scotland

Rt. Hon Brian Wilson
The St Kilda World Heritage Site
Remote Access Centre

Live link with Uluru-Kata Tjuta
National Park Board and Parks Australia

For full programme and registration visit:
www.inspace.ed.ac.uk

